Expel and Atlantic Data Security (ADS) bring together cutting-edge managed detection and response (MDR) with deep security expertise to help organizations stay ahead of threats.

- Multilayered security protection
- Unique Integrated approach
- Maximize SIEM efficiency
- 24x7 SOC Services

Why Expel?

Expel provides transparent, AI-driven Managed Detection & Response (MDR) services that work seamlessly with your existing security tools. Their approach ensures:

- 24/7 threat monitoring and response by expert analysts
- Seamless integration with your SIEM, EDR, and cloud platforms
- Clear, actionable remediation guidance—not just alerts
- Automated investigations and rapid containment

Confidently address your cybersecurity challenges

Expel's security experts and advanced technology help manage alert overload, respond quickly to incidents, and protect your organization from evolving threats.

Not Enough Security Staff or Time:

Expel's SOC experts and technology help security teams of all sizes proactively protect against all types of threats by augmenting existing capabilities.

Alerts, Alerts, and more Alerts:

Expel technology uses AI and automation to find real threats in endless alert noise, with an industry-best 17-minute MTTR on high/critical incidents.

Gaps Lead to More Risk and Higher Costs:

Expel's dedicated team of experts and technology help tackle security risks while reducing costs and addressing gaps in staffing, budgets, and tech.

Better Together

With Expel's best-in-class MDR and ADS's deep security expertise, organizations gain:

- End-to-end security coverage from detection to remediation
- Faster response to threats with expert-led analysis
- Reduced operational burden—let the experts handle security
- Custom security roadmaps tailored to your business needs
