

Fairfield
UNIVERSITY

"When I joined Fairfield in March 2022, I was immediately thrown into the deep end with negotiating three renewals for cornerstone security products. Atlantic Data Security helped me navigate these complex renewals tremendously, assisting in two of them and suggesting an alternate product for the third that reduced my costs by half and has performed exceedingly well in our security stack.

They have been a great help in tuning and expanding our firewall environment and ensuring that we were able to renew our cyber insurance plan at a good rate.

Atlantic has been a steady and reliable partner in helping me manage the security challenges I navigate at Fairfield university. Their commitment to customer success and technical excellence is unmatched. I look forward to our continued partnership."

— Hank Foss, CISO at Fairfield University

ATLANTIC
DATA SECURITY

"When I joined in March 2022, I was immediately thrown into the deep end with negotiating three renewals for cornerstone security products. Atlantic Data Security helped me navigate these complex renewals tremendously, assisting in two of them and suggesting an alternate product for the third that reduced my costs by half and has performed exceedingly well in our security stack.

They have been a great help in tuning and expanding our firewall environment and ensuring that we were able to renew our cyber insurance plan at a good rate.

Atlantic has been a steady and reliably partner in helping me manage the security challenges I navigate at Fairfield university. Their commitment to customer success and technical excellence is unmatched. I look forward to our continued partnership."

— CISO at a leading private university

Fairfield
UNIVERSITY

"When I joined Fairfield in March 2022, I was immediately thrown into the deep end with negotiating three renewals for cornerstone security products. Atlantic Data Security helped me navigate these complex renewals tremendously, assisting in two of them and suggesting an alternate product for the third that reduced my costs by half and has performed exceedingly well in our security stack.

They have been a great help in tuning and expanding our firewall environment and ensuring that we were able to renew our cyber insurance plan at a good rate.

Atlantic has been a steady and reliably partner in helping me manage the security challenges I navigate at Fairfield university. Their commitment to customer success and technical excellence is unmatched. I look forward to our continued partnership."

— Hank Foss, CISO at Fairfield University

"When I joined in March 2022, I was immediately thrown into the deep end with negotiating three renewals for cornerstone security products. Atlantic Data Security helped me navigate these complex renewals tremendously, assisting in two of them and suggesting an alternate product for the third that reduced my costs by half and has performed exceedingly well in our security stack.

They have been a great help in tuning and expanding our firewall environment and ensuring that we were able to renew our cyber insurance plan at a good rate.

Atlantic has been a steady and reliably partner in helping me manage the security challenges I navigate at Fairfield university. Their commitment to customer success and technical excellence is unmatched. I look forward to our continued partnership."

— CISO at a leading private university